

Abstract

The invention relates to a pharmaceutical active-ingredient-containing formulation for oral administration which is 5 coated with a single coating of a film-forming polymer, the coating comprising a mixture of at least two separating agents and no stabilizer.